Reports of the Superintendent

The Super's 8 Highlights

1. Sixteen QHS Art students were selected for the 51st Annual High School Art Competition. The exhibit opens on February 1 from 1-3 at the Quincy Art Center.
2. Nukumori House students at Rooney have been selling Candy Grams this week so that students and teachers can send a message and sweet treat to brighten someone's day. The proceeds from the sale will be donated to the Quincy Humane Society.
3. Friends of Jenni Moran hosted a trivia night last weekend in her honor. The event raised $1200 which will go to her daughter's education fund.
4. The Blue Devil Wellness Committee hosted the Blue Devil Café last week at the Board Office where staff were treated to coffee, tea, hot chocolate and a chance to take a moment to visit with colleagues.
5. The KidzPack program, now run by Horizons, continued their hard work, packing bags with 18 essential items to distribute to students to access over winter break.
6. Students at Iles Elementary School will enjoy a unit in PE class on fishing. This was made possible by a grant from the QPS Foundation.
7. Always a favorite, students at ECFC got a visit from Tracy Schleppehorst and Ripley the dog.
8. While not new to the district, former Athletic Director Matt McClelland assumed his new role as director of QAVTC after Evie Morrison's retirement in December.

Spotlight on QHS and The Academy—Multiple Pathways

QHS Principal Steinke and Academy Director Wells discussed the various pathways and opportunities available for our students to ensure their success as graduates. These initiatives provide personalized education experiences tailored to individual needs. These options include:

- Flex Program
- Online Academy
- Graduate Assistance Program
- Open Learning Center
- College Career Readiness
- JWCC Smart Start
- Credit Recovery
