SKWARD

Skyward is QHS's student information system and an important tool for parents. On skyward, parents can check student grades, attendance, discipline, and lunch accounts. Parents can also report student absences on Skyward and find teacher email addresses. It is highly recommended to download the free Skyward app. More information may be found in the QHS Student Handbook.

SCHOOLGY

Again this year, all QHS teachers will be uploading every assignment in their classes to Schoology. In addition, they will also be posting a daily or weekly calendar. Many teachers also post instructional videos and resources for extra help. This should be students' first stop if they are absent or need to find a handout or missing assignment.

GRADES & GRADING

A couple of important reminders about grades and grading at QHS.

Semester Grades: The grades for most courses at QHS are a running total throughout the semester. The Semester Exam at the end of each course will be worth 10% of the overall semester grade.

QHS Grade Scale: A = 110 to 90; B = 89 to 80; C = 79 to 70; D = 69 to 60; F = 59 and below

Performance and Practice: Performance assignments in classes will be worth 80% of the semester grade (90% in grade-weighted classes). Performance assignments assess the level of learning that has occurred and will consist of assignments such as quizzes, tests, essays, projects, and others. Practice assignments are meant to engage students in learning in classes will be worth 20% of the semester grade (10% in grade-weighted courses). These will typically be homework type assignments.

Grade Reporting: Semester grades are final grades and will be reported on transcripts. Semester grades will also be printed and distributed to parents. Midterm grade reports will not be printed and will only be accessible on Skyward.
